Judging by some samples which Mr Basa has sent us we should say the 'Alphonse XII,' a cigar of excellent make and quality, will be found to make a very

> ABOUT half-past one this morning fire broke out in a back room on the top floor of No. 18 Gage Street, the premises occupied by Mr. A. M. Apcar, merchant and commission agent. The room in question is used as an office and was unoccupied at the time, and the origin of the fire is a mystery. The Fire Brigade turned out in response to the summons by the alarm bells, but the men from the Central Fire Station had extinguished the flames in a few minutes, getting plenty of water from the street main. damage done is very slight. The premises, we understand, are not insured.

CONSTABLE Macaulay of the Hongkong Police distinguished himself last week by saving a man's life, but being modest he did not make a noise over the fact, and it did not get into the papers. It has not been allowed to pass without recognition, however, and we believe steps are being taken to get the customary reward for Macaulay. The facts of the case are these. About ten o'clock one night lost week a number of sailors, all more or less merry, were rolling about on Pedder's Wharf, when one of them, a man belonging to the Oronics, fell into the hartour. He could not swim and was fast being carried away by the strong current. There was no boat at hand, and the tars on the Wharf had made po effort to help their companion in the water, when Macaulay came along and ascertaining what had happened, jumped into the water without taking time to relieve bimself of his belt or tupic and awam out to the drowning man whom he succeeded in bringing to the Wharf
